AACP Australia Chapter e-News Update

Welcome to AACP eNews Update

The American Academy of Craniofacial Pain Australian Chapter was established in 2009.

The AACP is committed to the advancement of research, study and knowledge. OUR VISION: we will continue to be the Craniofacial Pain/TMD organization representing all practitioners in this discipline by providing a common ground for advancement of knowledge, clinical practice and research.

VENUE - Sydney Marriott Hotel 7th International Symposium Secrets of Success in Sleep and Pain: A Clinical Guide

Dentistry demands a lot from you. Every appointment you make numerous clinical Judgements that affect patient outcomes, your reputation and the bottom line.

Treating people with chronic facial pain can throw a big torque wrench into the works. While there is no cook book approach for diagnosing and treating facial pain, systems exist that increase the ease of diagnosis and help you treat effectively to provide a successful outcome.

This course is designed to demystify confusing aspects of orofacial pain and sleep therapies: Are you clear on when and what tests to order? Learn how to do a cranial nerve evaluation. Clarify reading sleep studies and MRI. Learn which medications bring results.

Recognise some of the unusual presentations of sleep and pain disorders to become a more effective practitioner.

AACP Australia brings you clinicians from around the world to show how to make providing pain and sleep therapy a more predictable and enjoyable part of your clinical day

AACP Australian Chapter 7th Annual Symposium: Secrets of Success in Sleep and Pain: A Clinical Guide

7th International Symposium Meet the Speakers

Professor Rafael Benoliel

Dr Benoliel spent 2 years training in Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery at the University of London before moving to the Dental Faculty at Hadassah the Hebrew University, Israel. He completed formal, state recognised, Oral Medicine training and subsequently concentrated on orofacial pain. In 1997-1998 he served as Research Associate at the Unit of Neuronal Gene Expression at the NIDCR, NIH, Bethesda.

In 2003 Dr. Benoliel was appointed Chair of the Department of Oral Medicine, in the Dental Faculty at Hadassah-Hebrew University. He joined the Dental School at Rutgers in June 2013 as the Associate Dean for Research and is the Director of the Center for Orofacial Pain and Temporomandibular Disorders, and current Chair of the IASP Special Interest Group on Orofacial and Head Pain .

PROFESSOR RAFAEL BENOLIEL

Our 2017 Symposium in Sydney brought you up to date with what is current and what the future directions are in sleep and pain research.

In 2018 our focus shifts again to highlight the clinical aspects of the Practice of Sleep and Pain. We have assembled a comprehensive list of expert clinicians to cover the topics every practitioner needs to have at their fingertips.

We welcome back Professor Rafael Benoliel from Rutgers University, New Jersey. He is no stranger to the AACP audience and will present 3 lectures in 2018.

One presentation is very relevant to current clinical events in Australia as we have recently seen in Perth.

“Leading the TMD Community” is more than a slogan. It is our guiding rule!

THE UNIVERSITY OF SYDNEY

The AACCP Australian Chapter thinks that if you would like to attain formal qualifications in the area of Orofacial pain from an Australian University we highly recommend this online course, which commences in 2018.

The Master of Medicine (Pain Management) is an evidence-based and clinically relevant program that explores the problem of pain in the community and the role of health professionals in managing and treating a range of pain conditions. This program will provide you with knowledge and strategies to prevent acute and sub-acute pain from progressing to chronic and disabling pain, and refine your ability to work in a multidisciplinary team to achieve this goal. You will learn from local and international academic clinicians and researchers including neuroscientists, anaesthetists, pharmacologists, clinical psychologists, psychiatrists, nurses, physiotherapists and research personnel, all widely experienced in pain management practice...
